OLD MACHIE, COME HERE FOR LESSON

More men at the wheel have come into his own. No longer are the advantages of the machine to be had by the few. This was illustrated Saturday when Charles A. Dolsen, an engineer at the Valley Cotton Oil company, filed a bill for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Josie Dolsen, and asked the court to award her the custody of their three children.

The bill was filed by the law firm of Bearman, Cohn & Bearman, under the provisions of an act passed by the 1935 legislature, which gives to a man the right to file for divorce on the ground of cruelty and inhuman treatment as a cause for divorce action. The bill was filed in the chancery court.

Dolsen alleges that he earns about $140 a month and that for a year and a half his wife has covered that period of time, he has given her $120 a month for her support and the support of five of his children by a former marriage. This money, he alleges, she used for her own selfish purposes and left the children without the care and kindness of a mother. As a result, the children became thin, sickly and emaciated, and were in such fear of her that they were forced to arise in the morning before the defendant in order to steal food and means of sustenance.

Her actions were such, Dolsen alleges, that at night he had to go home, and the only comfort he found in the day's routine was to walk the streets at night for a movie.

Fattened in Boarding House.

Finally, Dolsen alleges, she threatened to kill him if she had to go to the place he worked to do it. He believed she would carry her threat into execution and so quietly removed himself and children to a boarding house, he alleges. There, he says, the children have gained in weight 7 to 15 pounds.

Dolsen's bill says "he bore his head in shame that he has selected the defendant to be the mother of children in the place of the sweet, dear, loving wife who was his companion for 25 years, and who now lies peacefully sleeping in that sleep that knows no waking, and with whom he never had one cross word."

Threats of bodily harm to him from his wife became so numerous, even after he left her, he alleges, that Justice W. W. Thompson finally put her under a peace bond. She then had a warrant sworn out against him in the juvenile court, he alleges, charging him with "desertion and failure to provide for his wife, all without cause." He pleaded not guilty, he says, in the juvenile court, and says he never was indicted, although he had been held for the state.

His clothing and that of the children now are in his wife's home, he says, and he claims she has refused to give them to him, and that because a writ of replevin he had drawn was faulty, he never has been able to get the clothes.

Dolsen prays of the court this relief: That his wife be granted a divorce; that the custody of the children be given to him; that all clothing belonging to him and the children be given to them; that the court make award of his wife's property as the justice of his cause merits, and that he have such other, further and general relief as the court believes him entitled to.

CLEMENCEAU URGES LEAGUE MEET IN NOV.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Premier Clemenceau has written Col. E. M. House, a member of the American peace delegation, urging that a meeting of the league of nations be held in Washington under the chairmanship of President Wilson early in November. The premier's letter, which outlines his reasons for the calling of such a meeting, was officially published today. It was written Sept. 4, 1919.

The letter said: "My Dear Friend—I hope soon to have the pleasure of seeing you in Paris before your return to America, but our friend, Capt. Andre Tardieu, says that this is not certain and therefore it seems well to communicate to you reflections suggested by decisions to be taken concerning the society of nations."

"In the first place it seems to me that the first meeting of the society in Washington, under the presidency of Mr. Wilson, should be urgently called at the earliest possible moment. Owing to the hopes this society has caused to be born and to facilitate the solution of international problems facing all nations, I would suggest the meeting be held the first week of the coming November, and would propose the invitation of the greatest possible number of statesmen whose names were associated with the creation of the society of nations. Undoubtedly there would only be a small amount of current business to transact, but the program would have this capital advantage: It would put in action the society, which still exists only on paper."

"Finally, don't you think it would be a great advantage for the ex-officio members of the society of nations to be enabled to exchange views on the general direction of the line to be pursued? No man is better qualified than President Wilson to remind the peoples at the opening of the first assembly that the society of nations was born of prestige and influence in times of peace only if it succeeds in maintaining and developing the feeling of international solidarity from which it was born. I myself, shall be happy to second him in this task."

(Signed) GEORGES CLEMENCEAU.

P. S.—I have written a similar letter Premier Lloyd George."

King Albert and Prince Leopold at noon were guests of the committee for relief in Belgium at the "Belgian" club. This afternoon the royal family will hold a reception in the public library.

The Belgian rulers will attend the meeting of the American Legion tonight at Madison Square garden, after which the royal party will take the state department special train for Boston.

Boston and Buffalo will be the only cities in the East other than New York to be visited by the king and his party. The king's decision to cancel engagements because of the illness of the president did not apply to the program arranged for him in these cities.
